VALUE

Dear All,

As I am writing this on April 16, and don't have a way to know exactly what to say to make this letter interesting when you read it in June; I will do what I have done in the past - guess.

There is a lot going on at Pyramyd Air. One old news item is that after 3 years we are bringing the Pyramyd Air Cup back. As you are reading this letter competitions are probably all sold out; but you can check the latest here: www.PyramydAirCup.com. There is a lot of work that goes into making these events run smoothly; and I certainly hope to see many of you stop by sometime Aug 24-27 at Cardinal Shooting Center, near Marengo, Ohio. Even if you don't compete, it's a great gathering of airgunners, manufacturers, media, and, of course, Pyramyd Air staff.

Next, I would like to share with you some of the product highlights from Shot Show 2023, that we thought are most noteworthy: AirForce TalonBolt Arrow Gun, RAW Micro Hunter, Air Venturi Avenge-X modular air rifle and RovAir compressor, JTS Airacuda & JTS Compressor, Hatsan Jet and Umarex Notos. You should be able to find all these new products on our website now and learn more about them there.

Another topic is the airgun slugs that have exploded in popularity. If someone told me 3 years ago that Pyramyd Air would have more slugs to choose from than traditional airgun pellets, I would not have believed them.

Lastly, I would like to mention Crosman, and congratulate them on their 100 year anniversary! Crosman is a great American company that still manufactures products in Bloomfield, NY. Our partnership with them goes back more than 20 years and I have huge respect for folks there who provide manufacturing jobs in upstate New York. Watch out for some interesting and exciting products they are launching in 2023 to celebrate their anniversary!

Thank you for being a customer, we know you have a choice, and we appreciate every order you place with us.

Shoot straight and be safe.

WHAT EXCITES ME IN 2023

By Tom Gaylord

There are many things to get excited about in 2023. Let's look at some of them now.

Air Venturi Avenge-X

For starters, the Air Venturi Avenge-X is a follow-on for the Avenger rifle series. Tyler Patner showed me the entire Avenge-X line at the SHOT Show in January. This is NOT the Avenger, though it looks very similar and some of the best features carry over. I have been blown away by the Avenger that is accurate, quiet, a repeater and quite affordable.

The Avenge-X line begins where the Avenger leaves off. This is a new lineup of repeating (PCP) precharged pneumatics that do look like the Avenger, but Tyler told me about several important differences.

The Avenge-X is Tyler's baby and he has designed it to be almost all things for all shooters.

Think of it as the next step for the Avenger owner. Prices start at $500.

Based on what I have seen in the Avenger I think this Avenge-X line will blow us away this year.

Here are a few of the notable features the Avenge-X offers that go beyond the Avenger:

Metal Receiver	Upgradability (barrels, reservoirs, stocks)
Carbon Fiber Reservoir (some models)	Power Adjustability (down to 12 foot pounds in .177 and under 20 in .22 caliber)
Sidelever	Power (up to 29 foot pounds in .177, 49 foot-pounds in .22 and 60 in .25)
Modular Tactical Design (some models)	Adjustable Regulator
HUGE Number of Shots Per Fill (210 with 10.3 gr. pellet at 900 f.p.s.)	Adjustable Trigger

JTS Dead Center Pellets

I could give you another air rifle from JTS—the Airacuda Max, but that isn't new this year. But the JTS line of lead pellets is. JTS Dead Center pellets are poised to become another dominant pellet line in 2023.

I have already started testing this line of pellets in the blog and can tell you that they hold their own against the top pellets on the market. These pellets are made in China. Are they a rebranded pellet made by someone else? No. I have been told they are brand new and that a whole line of them is coming.

Integrix Scopes

Leapers has changed the landscape of optics, and in 2023 they leaped to the forefront once again. They will bring out the first of their Integrix line of rifle scopes this year. I saw them at the SHOT Show and then they sent me a preproduction sample of their new 1-8X32 scope to examine in detail. Here is my evaluation so far —Wow!

This new scope has a fixed parallax adjustment of 100 yards and, as such, isn't suitable for airguns, but I can see what's coming!

The .25-caliber JTS Dead Center is one of those special domed pellets I brought back from the SHOT Show. At 10 meters the Airacuda Max rifle put 10 of these JTS Dead Center pellets into a group that measures 0.186-inches between centers at 10 meters. Nine of the ten shots are in a perfectly round 0.0-inch group. Only one shot—number six or seven—strayed out to the right side, and no, it wasn't a called pull.

I got similar results with the .22-caliber Dead Center pellet, so this was no fluke. The rifle is already known to be a world-beater. And now there is a new line of premium, yet affordable pellets to feed it.

As this catalog is published I'm eagerly awaiting a new Integrix variable that has parallax adjustment down to 10 yards.

These scopes will not be cheap. But they are poised to go toe-to-toe with scopes from Nightforce and Swarovski—scopes that easily get into the $3,000+ category. Expect to see Integrix scopes around $1,400 to $2,200. And, as a special gift to airgunners around the world, there will be an Integrix Bug Buster at a reduced price. Plus, they are made in the USA!

Yes, 2023 is a banner year for airguns. Keep your eyes on the blog and the Pyramyd Air website for more detail!
